ON THEIR WAY TO DEEDS

Belgians Tell to Thiers, "Are You On Your Way to Paris?"

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Both the former German Emperor and his eldest son, Frederick Wilhelm, crossed the Dutch frontier Sunday morning, according to advices from the Dutch frontier. The Emperor was accompanied by a large body of German soldiers, according to the Dutch frontier guard.

Practically the whole German General Staff accompanied the former Emperor, and his entourage carried the party.
The automobiles were heavily armed with rifles, and all the soldiers were armed.

The ex-Kaiser was in a train. He alighted at the Dutch frontier and passed the platform, smoking a cigarette.

Photographers were taken by [?] the members of the Imperial party, to the whole the people were very quiet, but Belgians among them, yelled out "La vengeance! La vengeance!" (Are you on your way to Paris?)

Chattering with the members of the staff, the former Emperor, the correspondent said, did not look in the least distressed. A few minutes later an imperial train, including resistant and sleeping cars, ran into the station. Only a few soldiers were absent.

The Emperor returned to Vliet, Belgium, and brought back a second train, in which were a large number of staff officers and others, and also some of his staff.

The preparation began for the departure at 10 o'clock this morning, but at 11 o'clock the train was still at Vliet.
The whole of the train was all doors.

The Dutch frontier guards of the party arrived in Belgium armed, and of them said it was unusual.

While other dispatches confirmed the report, the Dutch frontier guard said that the Emperor and his son had crossed the frontier at 10 o'clock.

It was reported that the Emperor and his son had crossed the frontier at 10 o'clock.

Socialist Control.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The greater part of Berlin is in control of revolutionaries. The former Kaiser has fled to Holland, and Friedrich Ebert, the new Socialist Chancellor, has taken command of the situation. The result is a complete overthrow of the German Government.

Dispatches received in London today announce these developments. The Workmen and Soldiers' Council in Berlin has taken over the administration of the city.

The War Ministry has submitted, and its acts are said to be controlled by a Socialist representative. The official War Ministry agency has been taken over by the Socialists.

The red flag has been hoisted over the royal palace and the Chancellery. The former Crown Prince's palace is now in possession of the revolutionaries.

There was severe fighting in Berlin between 8 and 10 o'clock last night and a violent cannonade was heard from the heart of the city.

The Bennett-Tinsley Award for Undergraduate History Research and Writing

The Bennett-Tinsley encourages undergraduate research in a broad range of subjects related to Indiana and rewards excellence in history research and writing. Many areas of the state's past, especially related to the history of women, minorities (including race, ethnicity, and gender/sexuality), refugees, peace and social justice issues, and the environment have received limited attention in Indiana historiography. The purpose of this competition is to recognize students who examine these topics and produce scholarship that advances our knowledge of these understudied areas of Indiana history.

The Indiana Historical Bureau (IHB), of the Indiana State Library, coordinates the award in partnership with the Indiana Association of Historians (IAH). It is given in honor of Pamela J. Bennett, long-time director of IHB, and Katherine Tinsley, Manchester University professor, former president of IAH, and coordinator of the Peggy Seigel Writing Competition, which was the predecessor of this award.

HISTORY LECTURE

The Cornelius and Anna Cook O'Brien Lecture Series

Cornelius O'Brien (1885-1953) and Anna Cook O'Brien (1886-1981) shared many interests, including a dedication to history and historic preservation. Mr. O'Brien was a successful Lawrenceburg farmer, banker, and manufacturer and an active longtime member of the Indiana Historical Society, serving on its executive board and as one of its vice presidents. He also served on the State Library and Historical Board, as well as on the Purdue University Board of Trustees, and he was the Democratic Party's nominee from Indiana for the U.S. Senate in 1944.

An early advocate of historic preservation, Mr. O'Brien's efforts were especially directed toward restoration of a portion of the Whitewater Canal and Veraestau, his nineteenth-century family residence, which overlooks the Ohio River at Aurora and which was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1973. Anna Cook O'Brien continued to live at Veraestau for many years after his death. This historic site presently serves as the Indiana Landmarks' Southeast Regional Office.

The lectureship originated at Hanover College as the "Cornelius O'Brien Lecture Series," funded through an initial gift and then a bequest by Mr. O'Brien more than a half century ago. In 1966, Mrs. Mary O'Brien Gibson (1915-2007), the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius O'Brien, set up and served as the president of the Cornelius and Anna Cook O'Brien Foundation, which contributed additional funds to this endowed lectureship. She also requested that the lectureship be renamed "The Cornelius and Anna Cook O'Brien Lecture Series" of Hanover College.

O'Brien Lecture is open to the public, free of charge.

HISTORY OF THE INDIANA ASSOCIATION OF HISTORIANS

Excerpt from the 1995 Annual Meeting Program:

“Founding: The idea of establishing an organization of state historians surfaced in 1979-1980 as part of the planning for the sesquicentennial of the Indiana Historical Society (IHS). Although the idea did not become a constituent part of the IHS celebration, subsequent discussions, particularly among Emma Lou Thornbrough (Butler University), Gayle Thornbrough (IHS), and Errol Stevens (IHS), led to the calling of an exploratory meeting of interested historians at the Society on May 20, 1980. A steering committee met August 11, 1980, to plan a preliminary organizational meeting of the state’s historians. The more than one hundred persons attending this meeting on October 31, 1980, in the auditorium of the State Library and Historical Building in Indianapolis had the privilege of hearing Prof. John Higham (Johns Hopkins) speak on the subject “Historians and Their Communities Today.” On March 13-14, 1981, seventy-seven historians from within the state assembled at Purdue University for the first annual meeting of the Indiana Association of Historians. An initial discussion session on Friday night chaired by Clifton J. Phillips was followed on Saturday by three sessions: “Non-Teaching Uses of History”; “Social and Economic Issues in the History of the United States”; and “World Events and Philosophies in a Changing Europe.” At the business meeting the historians officially chose to call their nascent organization “Indiana Association of Historians,” a name originally suggested by Emma Lou Thornbrough. . . . Selected as the first officers of the IAH were: President-Walter Nugent (IU-Bloomington), Vice President-Emma Lou Thornbrough (Butler), Secretary-Treasurer-Oakah L. Jones (Purdue), Program Chair-Peter Sehlinger (IU-Indianapolis).”
